I recently adopted a wonderful, loving orange & white cat from BAFN, after fostering him for a couple of weeks until I was ready to make a commitment. Based on my experience, I have only good things to say about Laurie Bleier and her organization. My cat is alive today because of the cooperative efforts of BAFN and CACC. He was pulled from the euthanasia list by CACC staff and delivered to my doorstep by BAFN, who also covered the cost of his veterinary care - and would have continued to do so indefinitely. I have seen first hand how dedicated they are to the many animals in desperate need of a home, and to the foster and adoptive families in the community who can provide a home. My cat is one of the lucky ones because of BAFN's work - and so am I.
